Recycling

The way I show my discipleship is by recycling. My mom and I have been collecting cans and bottles and whatever money we raised we would donate it to charity to help special children. We do this every other week. We would do this at home and recycle them at a recycling place. I do this because I thought it would be nice to help the community out in some way. The Catholic Social Teaching that is being displayed is option for the poor and vulnerable, because since my family has received so many blessings from the lord it is only right that we share them.

Collecting

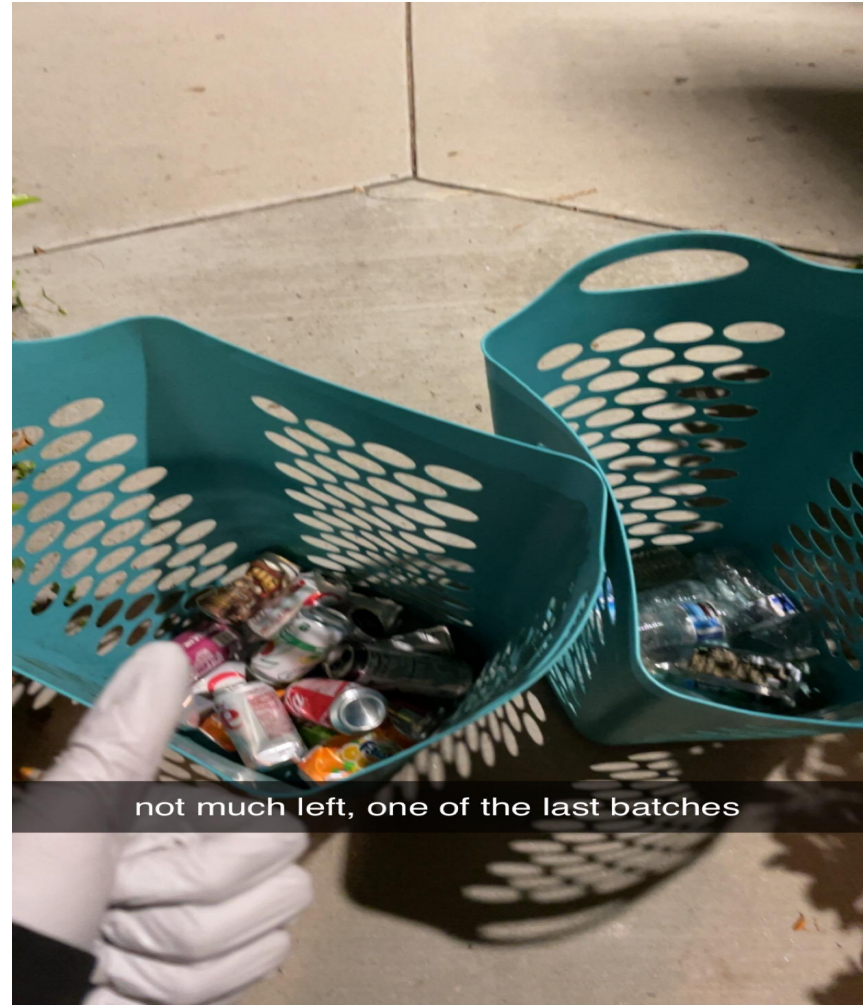

First we would collect whatever we can recycle

Sorting

This is where I contribute, I sort the cans and bottles into their own baskets.

Profit

After the recyclables are sorted we bring them to a recycling center and exchange them for money.

Outcome

After we give away the recycling we usually get $30 and we would give them away to charity to help them pay for medicine and other equipment they need. Most of it gets donated to Guanella Home for Special Children in the Philippines. Last year our recycling totalled $500.
